

ORGANIZING YOUR INVENTORY OF NEW COSMETIC COLORS

By Director ANN KUEHLER

When you are ORGANIZED, you feel READY TO SHOW & $ELL the NEW colors!

I have been looking for a container that will hold the NEW color cosmetic items. You have probably seen these plastic 3-drawer storage boxes at Walmart, Hobby Lobby, Target, etc. I had two for office supplies and my assistant, India, and I discovered that they are the perfect size but need dividers for the drawers. For the time being, we cut up cardboard to use as dividers. India also made divider tabs for each of the colors. You can use light weight cardboard (file folders, file cards, etc). She cut the tabs into 2.5 inches high & 2.25 inches wide. That is about the size of the containers that the color items come in. Start cutting up your divider tabs -- and be ready to stock your drawers with all the NEW Colors. Below are the names of the ALL of the NEW colors. You can use these names typed in font size 14, cut them out, and tape them on the divider tabs. (I figure ... if you are typing up divider tabs, why not do them all?)

I wanted you to see this organizer in case you are shopping and see one. The NEW color cosmetics WILL NOT take up as much room as the classic ones do.
