SrNSD SUZANNE BROTHERS VARLEY

"I continue to design the life I love to live, with financial rewards and exotic trips around the world, but without the huge sacrifices other businesses demand."

Mirror, mirror on the wall. Independent Senior National Sales Director SuzAnne Brothers, who always admired well-put-together professional women, thought that the only way to be like them was to join corporate America. But not wanting to sacrifice her family, SuzAnne kept busy as mother, wife, homemaker and volunteer. "I saw my independence being swallowed up," SuzAnne recalls. "There was no personal growth. I said that would be for later when circumstances changed."

What changed was her desire. "One day seemed just like the rest, and money was always tight," she says. "I had to get a hold of myself and do something!" A former Independent Beauty Consultant, SuzAnne knew she enjoyed what a Mary Kay business offered. With shaky confidence, rusty skills and few contacts, she recommitted herself to her business and started over – this time with a clear focus.

"I now have the best of both worlds," SuzAnne says, "the chance to raise an active family and manage a high-profile, extremely successful business. Harmony and purpose fill my life and enrich my days. The well-put-together professional woman I once admired is now the woman in the mirror."
