Tim took this picture while out flying with a neighbor... You can see his “garage-mahal” at the top of the picture and my Mary Kay office is at an angle at the left of the house. We own most of the land you see, and also the property across the street from us.

“Home on the Lake!”

In May 2005 Tim and I sat at a "resort" in Lago Vista on Lake Travis, and casually said, "We need to come down and find a little piece of property on the lake ... just kind of get our toes in the water ... maybe someday build a little cabin. After all, they aren't making any more lakefront land ... and we've always wanted a ranch/cabin/lakehouse." This home and land are directly across the lake from the resort ... we have passed the turnoff to it many times on our way to/from Jessica & John's ranch and never noticed it! We honestly had no intention of moving from the Dallas area so soon, even though Jessica and Regan both live in Austin. We loved our home, our neighborhood, our neighbors, and the DFW area. This move simply became a "God-thing". We only looked at three lake areas in three days ... this being the third. We walked in the door and that was it! Here are some pictures of it.
